

WhistleB Environmental Policy. Keeping track of our environmental footprint.

WhistleB conduct business in a responsible and transparent way. Customer care and high business ethics are the foundation for sustainable profit.

Business practice. WhistleB has a very small environmental footprint as our core business idea supports web and telephone meetings. The main environmental footprint of our operations comes primarily from international business travel, so we calculate and compensate for the climate emissions we cause.

Climate compensation. WhistleB climate emissions are offset by emission reductions in verified climate projects.

Our environmental success is based on the following principles

- We minimize the environmental impact generated by our business trips by, whenever possible, we manage our contacts via video conferencing, telephone and e-mail rather than by travelling.
 - We coordinate our visits and plan our journeys efficiently.
 - When travelling by taxi, we prioritize using eco-certified taxi companies.
 - Carbon emissions from business travels and offices are compensated.
- We will strive to reduce energy consumption.
- We will minimize our waste and achieve a high level of recycling.
- Good environmental performance, including degree of recyclability, will be prioritized during procurement.
- Our employees will be involved in the corporate environmental work and receive information to be able to make environmentally sound decisions.

Our environmental work is founded on continual improvements through environmental risk assessment and handling.
